Dr. Valerie Linse joins our staff after having spent the last five years as a veterinarian in the field services division of Hagyard Equine Medical Institute, a world renowned equine practice/hospital in the heart of horse country, Lexington, KY. Employing over 50 Veterinarians, Hagyard provides all levels of care for a wide variety of horses.

Dr. Linse has handled all phases of equine medicine including routine preventive care, emergency services, reproductive management, and surgical care. Dr. Linse is also trained in equine acupuncture therapy and has effectively used acupuncture to treat reproductive, musculo-skeletal, ophthalmic and neurologic dysfunction. She is certified in large animal emergency rescue and also in advanced equine reproductive ultrasonography.

Dr. Linse was raised on a working cattle ranch in Montana. She was responsible for managing and training of 20 horses year round. She received her bachelor's degree from Montana State University. She received her master's degree in Equine Reproductive Physiology from Colorado State University. She did research and worked in the reproductive lab at Colorado State while obtaining her Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree. Dr. Linse has been an author and researcher in many scientific studies as well as book chapters in veterinary reference texts.

It is easy to see from Dr. Linse's resume why we are looking forward to bringing her skills to Corriente. When you couple that with her wonderful personality and comfort around horses, we think you will enjoy getting to know her too. Please join Dr. Johnson, Dr. Esser and the rest of the staff in welcoming her. Dr. Linse will begin seeing appointments in November.
